NOTED BEAUTY EXPELLED.

All Paris has talked much about the fact that Mrs. Odelet had been expelled from Hamburg. De Paugy is an important personage in Paris, and her fame extends throughout all Europe. She is an actress and celebrated as a beauty. For years she has been a queen of that brilliant world which makes laws unto itself, and among her votaries are men of great wealth and position.

Mlle. De Paugy is used to having her own way. Had any of her friends in Paris been told that an American woman, no matter how high her social position or great her wealth, could have succeeded in having the actress expelled from a summer hotel, particularly in Hamburg, they would have scouted the suggestion.

Of course Mrs. Goelet had not discussed the incident. Naturally she would not be drawn into controversy with Mlle. De Paugy. But the Figaro, the Gaulois and other Paris papers give many columns to the incident.

Mlle. De Paugy says that Mrs. Goelet had said her to be most severely humiliated. "I had done nothing, mark you, nothing," she writes. "My conduct had been more proper and reserved than that of any other woman in Hamburg."

"My reputation was alleged—I am a actress and all that, of course. But what of it? Are the guests of a hotel to be answerable for their past, present and future?"

"The whole trouble between Mrs. Goelet and myself came about in this way: When I first arrived in Hamburg I went to the Ritter's Park Hotel and engaged the suite of room just vacated by Mrs. Mackay, of New York. They were the best in the hotel. Mrs. Goelet, who arrived shortly after I did, was compelled to go into rather modest quarters a floor or two above mine, because of the scarcity of accommodations."

"Apparently she deemed it impertinent of me to decline the overtures she made through the manager to exchange apartments. She began a campaign against me. She had tried to get the Ritter's Park Hotel management to write me out, suggesting as a plausible pretext that she had engaged Mrs. Mackay's suite by telegram, and that it had been given me by mistake."

"I knew this was not true, and so I rebelled vigorously. My good chums, the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Ouslow and Prince Henri d'Orleans, protested so sharply in my behalf that the hotel people did not dare to press the point."

"The climax of Mrs. Goelet's rage was reached, I am told, when she actually summoned up enough courage to speak in defense of my position and finally to declare that she thought I was the most beautiful woman in Hamburg, the most elegant, simple, etc."

Then Mlle. De Paugy, being fully conscious of the dramatic possibilities of the situation, says that Mrs. Goelet finally prevailed upon the manager of the hotel to suggest to Mlle. De Paugy that she find shelter elsewhere. The actress declared that the American threatened to ruin the hotel by withdrawing her own patronage and that of American travelers. And Mlle. De Paugy wants to know if this is the much-vaunted American spirit of fair play.

LETTER FROM FAIRFAX.

[Correspondence Alexandria Gazette]
LINCOLNIA, Oct. 10.—Mrs. A. V. Ferguson, who has been on a visit of two weeks to her brother, Mr. Henry M. Smith, and also a son, in Loudoun county, returned to her home on Saturday last, having had a most pleasant trip.

Mrs. Anna Ball and her little daughter Lottie, from Washington, spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. W. W. Sutton, Mrs. E. S. Sater.

Let us give pleasure to state that the school board for Falls Church district has elected Miss Jessie Martin as the teacher of the public school at Bailey's X Roads and she will no doubt give satisfaction to them and its patrons.

Services were held last Sunday evening at the Episcopal chapel here. Sunday school at 3 p. m. At 4 p. m. Mr. Messie, of Annapolis, Md., one of the seminary students, delivered an interesting discourse. Miss Jennie Fitzhugh presided at the organ. All were glad to welcome the student's return to this session of the seminary. Many kind wishes were also expressed for Rev. S. A. Wallis and his estimable wife on their safe arrival home from their trip to Europe the past summer.

The sad news has reached here of the death of Mr. J. E. James, near here, which occurred at his home, near Waterford, Loudoun county last week. The sympathies of all who know Mr. James's family go out to them in this affliction. Mr. Woodford was an excellent citizen and a good neighbor and his loss will be keenly felt.

MEDICINAL.

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What does your doctor say?

"You are suffering from impure blood."

What is his remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

You must not have constipated bowels if you expect the Sarsaparilla to do its best work. But Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

We have a book on Pale ness and Weakness which you may have for the asking.

Write to our Doctors.

Perhaps you would like to consult eminent physicians about your condition. Write us freely all the particulars in your case. You will receive a prompt reply.
